I have a grade A 5yr buckskin mare that is green. She has been to the trainer for 30days she knows only her basics such as backing, leg work turning with leg pressure stop, and go. I got her to train for a barrel horse but I don't think she is going to have the speed I need for a barrel horse. I think once she is trained fully she will have the perfect speed for a beginner barrel rider. She is UTD on coggins and all other shots. You are more than welcome to ride her before you purchase her. I'll be willing to trade for another horse that's a good starting barrel horse. She is about 15h
